

PRESS RELEASE

SBDC at DBCC to Host Disaster Planning Seminar

July 26, 2006

Daytona Beach, Fla. - If you're a business owner, you need to know how to protect your business. The Small Business Development Center (SBDC) at Daytona Beach Community College announces a 90-minute free seminar designed to explain the strategies and tools for disaster planning required by small businesses to reduce economic damages.

What: Disaster Proof Your Business in 90 Minutes Workshop Objectives: Is Your Business Disaster Proof?

When: Wednesday, Aug. 9, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Where: DBCC Daytona Beach Campus, Bldg. 110, Room 102, located at 1200 W. International Speedway Blvd, Daytona Beach Presented By: Robert J. Goetz, MBA, CBA

Get the quick "disaster plan in a box" applicable for whatever disaster that might be thrown your way. Critical components of business continuity planning and insurance will also be discussed. This is a hands-on, interactive presentation designed to ensure participants leave with a plan in hand. This is a free seminar.

To make your reservation or for additional information about the seminar call (386) 506-4723 or visit www.SBDCDaytona.com.

Contact:

Glyn Johnston, Director
Marketing & Communications
Telephone: (386) 506-4499
Email: johnstg@dbcc.edu

Media Contact:

Brandi Chaney, Public Relations Coordinator

Email: brandi@floridacompact.org

Phone: (850) 488-7782